T.C. to Send Delegates to Student Anti-Gen Meeting

The Georgia Teachers college student body will send four delegates to Macon to a conference of approximately sixty representatives from the schools of the University of Georgia system to meet there Saturday at 4 p.m. to map a campaign to persuade the legislature of Georgia to call itself into session to remove politics from the educational system of the state.

The delegates to represent the Teachers College are John Dunn, president of the student council; Oliver Thomas, president of the Y.M.C.A.; Harry Robertson, editor of the Georgia-Anne, student publication, and Dorothy Garner, member of the sophomore class. A resolution was drawn up and adopted at a study body meeting called by the student council yesterday morning.

The resolution is as follows:

"Whereas: Democratic government and democratic education in the state of Georgia have been and are still being threatened, and the Georgia-Anne, student publication, and Dorothy Garner, member of the sophomore class, are in danger of losing all accredited standing in the eyes of the rest of the nation, and

"Whereas: Every public-minded citizen of the state of Georgia and other states in the United States, must and have viewed in grave alarm the recent unwarranted and malicious interference with the educational system of the state of Georgia,

"Therefore: Be It Resolved That the student body of Georgia Teachers college (representing a unit of the university system of Georgia which has been threatened and comprising some 350 students) do hereby approve unanimously of the action taken by the committee of the Southern University Conference whereby it expressed its disapproval of the political interference with the educational system of the state of Georgia, and

"That: The students of Georgia Teachers college, realizing the grave threats that have been made them and the effects of the action upon them, express their sincere sympathy for the present plight of the students of the University of Georgia and the rest of the students of the University System of Georgia, and

"That those students of Georgia Teachers college organize and execute a campaign designed to make impossible political interference in the educational system of the state of Georgia at any future time, and to aid in restoring the educational prestige of the University System of Georgia, and

"That the students of Georgia Teachers college use all the influence and ability at their disposal to convene at as early a date as possible to abolish the present system of political bickering in the educational system of Georgia by stripping the governor of the members of the board of regents, state of Georgia of the power of appointing the members of the board of regents.

The above resolutions drawn up and approved by the student council of Georgia Teachers college, was unanimously adopted at a special call meeting of the student body held in the auditorium at 10:15 o'clock, Oct. 29, 1941.

Gulley-McLemore Wedding of Wide Interest

The Sylvester Baptist church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Jeannie Elizabeth Gulley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kerr Gulley, of Atlanta, formerly of Sylvester, to Gilbert Carmichael McLemore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville McLemore, of Statesboro, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, the Rev. Baskin, pastor of the church, read the vows before a large assembly of friends and relatives.

The altar loft of the candle-lighted chancel was filled with palms and ferns. Against the background of greenery stood tall white altar baskets filled with white gladioli and button chrysanthemums. The choir rail, white-covered, was festooned with asparagus ferns. Below this were baskets filled with mammoth white shaggy chrysanthemums. Flanking this arrangement were mammoth maidenhair ferns. White satin ribbons marked the reserved pews.

Prior to and during the ceremony, Enrico Leide, director of music at Brenau, cellist; Miss Ruth Drane, of Atlanta, vocalist, and Mrs. L. H. Mann, aunt of the bride, organist, rendered a program of uplift music.

Usher-groomsman were Hugh Westberry, of St. Augustine, Fla.; Joe Dougherty, of Brunswick; Edwin Kerr Gulley, Jr., of Columbus, and Lewis Gulley, of Atlanta, brothers of the bride; Jack Tolbert and Walter Paschal, of Atlanta, Bobby McLemore, of Statesboro, was his brother's best man.

Miss Mattie Gulley, only sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Forrest Mann, Anne Douglas Alford, of Sylvester; Sarah Westberry, of St. Augustine, Fla.; and Betty McLemore, of Statesboro, sister of the groom.

The bride's attendants were gowned alike in models of dress blue satin featuring sweetheart necklines, three-quarter length sleeves and long molded bodices with bride's buttons extending from the tip of the neckline to the waist. They carried bouquets of Tullman roses surrounded by rainbow asters, Mattie Ruth Wimp was flower girl and James Alford, Jr., was ringbearer.

The bride was radiantly beautiful in her gown of heavy ivory satin made on regal lines. The long tight sleeves extended in points over the hands and the neckline was heart-shaped. The skirt terminated in a court train. The bride veil of illusion extended to the end of the train and was caught to her hair with a Juliet cap of hand-made lace brought from Europe by aunt of the bride. Her only ornament was an heirloom, a crescent of diamonds. The bride carried a large bouquet of gardenias, bride's roses and stephanotis, centered with a purple-throated white orchid.

Mrs. Edwin Kerr Gulley, the bride's mother, wore blue crepe with a shoulder spray of gardenias. Mrs. McLemore's gown was of ground red. The entire house was decorated with white and red roses. At all the parties the guests were served children salad, pickles, pickles and coffee.

The prizes for bridge were alike all three parties, individual divided egg-eating trays for high potery for cut and hot dish mats for low.

Guests were invited for seven tables Wednesday morning, Mrs. Z. Whitehurst made top score, Mrs. Bruce Olliff won cut, and Mrs. Waldo Floyd received low.

On Wednesday afternoon at six tables of bridge, Mrs. Cohen Anderson won cut, Mrs. Lehman Franklin won cut and Mrs. Robert Benson was low. At three tables of heart dice, Mrs. J. W. Gunter received potery for high potery, Mrs. J. N. Peacock was given hot dish mats for low.

On Thursday morning guests were invited for seven tables, on this occasion Mrs. Lester Brannen was given high score prize, Mrs. Glenn Jennings won cut and Mrs. Fred Abbott won low.

Mrs. Clarence Rhodes assisted the hostesses in serving and entertaining.

VOLUME V

Ike Minkovitz Named C. of C. President

There used to be two special days in the year, Christmas and Commencement day, but here in Statesboro we have a revised calendar which marks with red letters Christmas, Commencement, and the P-T-A. Halloween carnival.

This year as I drew the family savings out of the green and red sugar bowl and impartially allotted to each his or her share of the dollars and cents little did I know what would be in store for us. First, there was the business of getting something to eat. We were directed to the school lunch room where Merle Kennedy (Mrs. Cecil) not only talked turkey but also turkey—five of them. There was Lena Bell Foy and Mrs. Glenn Jennings making everybody feel at home. Yerna Martin and Sara Morris were serving just like they had done such things before.

A pretty sight was nearly thirty girls all in one group enjoying the turkey supper. We saw Julia Gammage with them and figured it was the popular president and her business girls.

AT THE GYM
After supper we crossed the street to the gymnasium and were stopped at the door by a red-headed gent by the name of Charles Leque who was taking in the dimes like nobody's business. There must have been a thousand that went in that place.

We hurried to one of those seats over at the right, but full of turkey as we were those hamburgers smelled pretty good and pretty soon we went over and asked Edna Mitchell and Mrs. Will Hagan for some. The boy wanted hot dogs, so Annie Brannen and Maud Smith fixed him up.

After that we thought we'd better go to the gymnasium and stand Elsie Norris and Miss Lee Oliff were whooping 'em up. I've always had a weakness for seeing my fortune teller and she had a fellow almost like a professional, they said. It wasn't anybody but Joe Zetterover and he was better than a professional.
